Jungle

Every table is the story of an encounter. Sambonet invites you to look through the abstract foliage of its new Jungle cutlery. An interweaving of natural elements, a decorative motif that redesigns cutlery by 'dressing' it with contemporary style. Just by placing the fork, spoon and knife close together, the asymmetrical graphism conceived by the fashion designer Gianni Cinti is composed. Signs of an organic and unique storytelling.

Ogni tavola è la storia di un incontro. Sambonet invita a guardare attraverso il fogliame astratto delle sue nuove posate Jungle. Un intreccio di elementi naturali, un progetto decorativo che ridisegna le posate "vestendole" di contemporaneità e stile. Solo accostando forchetta, cucchiaio e coltello, si compone il grafismo asimmetrico ideato dal fashion designer Gianni Cinti. Segni di una narrazione organica e unica.

- Cutlery with a unique texture in the market.
- Double-sided relief made during the moulding of the piece.
- Details resistant to wear or time effects.
- Perfect for the trends passionate and fashion.
- Made of high quality 18/10 stainless steel and dishwasher safe.
- All sets are available in Mirror stainless steel and in the attractive PVD colours.

Gianni Cinti (Perugia, 1979) owes his transversal language between art and design to his education and collaborations with prestigious fashion brands. Joining the creative team of the Maison Gianfranco Ferré affirmed him on the international stage. With the opening of his own studio in 2010, he also started close consultancy relationships with design companies. He teaches at the European Institute of Design in Milan, where he lives and works.
