About Supper Circle

Supper Circle acts as a brand platform and sales extension for a curated portfolio of hospitality brands, bringing them together under one name and offering a single point of contact.

We partner closely with our brands to represent them in the market, supporting them through sales, positioning, and concept development. This results in a carefully selected and complementary portfolio that is easy to understand, manage, and bring to market, translating into cohesive solutions that go beyond individual products.

With deep roots in hospitality, we understand that today's industry is no longer driven by products or pricing alone. It's about creating meaning, telling a story, and delivering a complete experience through a thoughtfully curated mix of collections.

Each brand and collection is selected with care, ensuring the right balance between design, quality, and identity.

More than connecting products, we connect people, aligning brands, distributors, and hospitality professionals in a way that creates real value for everyone involved.

Supper Circle simplifies complexity, strengthens collaboration, and helps bring strong hospitality concepts to life.

Collections

Kojin

Designed by Koen Van Troost, Kojin is inspired by the Japanese spirit of fire and transformation. Pure white porcelain becomes a canvas for contrast, matte on the outside, luminous within. A subtle fracture line flows through each piece, adding movement and identity. Poetic and refined, Kojin brings depth and quiet intensity to the table.

Partner Brands USA

Pomax

Pomax, a Belgian family-owned brand founded by Xavier De Vil, reflects a deep commitment to authenticity and enduring design. What began with glassware has evolved into a rich tabletop universe built on decades of expertise.

Combining tradition with a contemporary sensibility, Pomax creates collections that bring warmth, balance, and natural elegance, designed to enrich hospitality spaces with a sense of familiarity and refinement.

Stylepoint

Stylepoint, based in the Netherlands, approaches hospitality through a lens of precision and reliability. Its collections are developed to support the flow of service while maintaining a clean and contemporary aesthetic.

Balancing practicality with refined design, Stylepoint delivers versatile tabletop solutions that perform effortlessly, bringing consistency, clarity, and polished elegance to every environment.

Apartu

Apartu, conceived by Belgian award-winning designer Pieter Roex, is a study in material, texture, and restraint. Each piece reveals itself gradually through touch, use, and the natural development of patina, creating objects that feel both grounded and expressive.

Designed for hospitality, Apartu introduces a calm, sculptural presence to the table, where subtle details and refined forms shape an atmosphere of quiet sophistication.

XLBoom

Founded in Belgium by Ann and Geert Jan, XLBoom creates contemporary design objects that bring clarity and refinement to hospitality environments. In collaboration with leading designers, the brand shapes collections where functionality is elevated through thoughtful design.

Defined by pure lines and honest materials, each piece is created to perform with quiet confidence, supporting service while adding a sense of structure, balance, and understated luxury to every setting.
